White Collars Are Target For AFL-CIO Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO, faced with alarming membership losses in its industrial unions, is embarked on a major effort to gather up the unorganized 14 million white collar workers.

It's potentially a fertile field—made up of teachers, government employes, clerks and office workers of all kinds—and is larger than the AFL-CIO's entire membership of some 13.5 million.

But the big union has run into resistance and one major reason is "snob appeal," according to an article in the Labor Department's monthly Labor Review, and an AFL-CIO spokesman agrees.

"Snob appeal is definitely one reason," the union spokesman said, "but it's fading as fast as the boss puts machines into the office and the white collar worker becomes just another machine operator."

The Labor Review article, by Albert A. Blum, lays the blame at labor's own door for its past failure to organize the man who goes to work in white collar and tie.

"First, unions did very little. Second what they did was wrong. Third they did it too late," says Blum, assistant to the director of Michigan State University's school of labor and industrial relations.

He cited examples of union organizing literature that told white collar clerks that they weren't earning as much as janitors.

Such appeals backfired, said Blum, because of snob appeal.

Russians Want Better Crops

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet swivel-chair farmers today wind up another Kremlin convention on Soviet agricultural problems which Premier Khrushchev believes can be solved by intensive fertilization and irrigation.

Khrushchev and his top officials have spent six days telling Communist party Central Committee members and visiting rural bureaucrats and farm specialists about the better crops to come.

The gravity of the Soviet Union's farm crisis appeared underscored by the unusual length of the plenary session.

Most of the time has been spent instructing farm bosses on uses of fertilizer and irrigation after long years of scrimping on these costly measures to pay for bigger steel plants.

The new drive to develop the fertilizer-producing chemical industry will be expensive, but Khrushchev insisted that the Soviet Union now can afford it, despite what Western analysts say.

Russian Police Defector Given Refuge In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government is granting asylum to Soviet secret police defector Yuri I. Nosenko in a case still carrying overtones of a spy thriller.

The State Department unraveled some of the mystery with a pair of announcements Friday. In the first U.S. comment since last Monday's disclosure that Nosenko, who had disappeared from the Soviet disarmament delegation at Geneva Feb. 4, had asked for political asylum in America, press officer Richard I. Phillips revealed that:

1. Nosenko now is in Washington, though his exact whereabouts remains a secret.

2. The Russians demanded an interview with Nosenko in a note Wednesday, and were granted it Friday. A Soviet Embassy representative talked to Nosenko for less than an hour, and Nosenko "reconfirmed his desire for asylum."

Questioned By Swiss

3. A Swiss Embassy representative also questioned Nosenko separately for less than an hour and got the same answer. A State Department representative sat in on both interrogations.

4. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko called in U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler in Moscow and delivered a stiff oral protest to what Gromyko called "improper behavior" by the United States in the case. But the Russians have not accused the United States of kidnaping and have not threatened to pull out of the disarmament conference at Geneva.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman confirmed the interview with Nosenko but declined comment. The Swiss Embassy also acknowledged having seen Nosenko and said its representative had been told by the Russian that he wanted refuge in the United States.

Phillips said the United States is "prepared to give him asylum" and had sent the Soviet Union a note replying to their Wednesday inquiry "as to the manner in which Mr. Nosenko presented himself to U.S. authorities."

Prize For West

The State Department spokesman said there would be no further announcement, and he declined to say when Nosenko might be surfaced to public view.

Still under wraps were how Nosenko defected, how he got to the United States, and what secrets he might have passed on to U.S. intelligence.

From the fuss Moscow has made over his disappearance there was speculation that the West had gained a notable prize in the continuing undercover contest of the cold war.

Nosenko, 36, was ostensibly a low-ranking member of the Soviet delegation at the disarmament parley. Actually, according to U.S. sources he is a staff officer of the Soviet KGB secret police apparatus.

This presumably would put him in a position to know about the workings of the secret police setup and the Soviet strategy at the Geneva conference.

Blizzard Hits Nebraska Area

By The Associated Press

A snowstorm accompanied by blinding winds marched from the Rocky Mountains into the Central Plains and Midwest today, smacking Nebraska and Kansas with near-blizzard conditions and dumping accumulations of snow in several areas.

North Platte, Neb., reported five inches, with snow still falling. Also in Nebraska, Grand Island and Burwell had four inches each.

Hill City, Kan., had a four-inch snowfall.

Strong northerly winds plagued the North Platte area, blowing the snow into deep drifts and in some instances reducing visibility to less than a mile.

The storm spread into Iowa and Missouri, dropping light snowfall, and in the South a rain shield covered areas to the Gulf Coast.

New Mexico felt the sting of ranging winds measuring up to 55 miles per hour in some areas. Blowing snow closed U.S. 87 at Raton in northeastern New Mexico for eastbound traffic and in Clayton for westbound traffic. Fifty-five m.p.h. winds and light snow howled through Des Moines, N.M., creating zero visibility and making highway travel impossible.

Education Head Thankful For Civil Rights

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —U.S. commissioner of Education Francis Keppel told the nation's school administrators today that despite the enormous desegregation pressures on them, "I say, thank God for the civil-rights movement."

"It provides the very opportunity we have been looking for" to fulfill the promise of education as the conqueror of poverty and the harbinger of hope, he declared.

For years, he said, educators have talked of the apathy of slum parents and have argued that "we can't teach their children because they are not interested in education."

"But now, out of the civil-rights movement, we are learning differently," he said. "We are learning that many of these parents are interested and have finally found a way to express their interest."

"If we can't deal creatively with this motivation for which we have looked so long, if once again we beat down this hope and return these people to despair, it will be the tragedy of our times," he said in his address for some 25,000 school administrators.

The commissioner also said that educators "must face up squarely to our shortcomings" if education is to succeed as a conqueror of poverty.

"The plain fact of the matter is," he said, "that we are simply not reaching hundreds of thousands of children who are now in our schools. You know it, and I know it, and the public knows it."

Unless this is accepted as a starting point to work for new solutions, he added, "wt will be lost."

Five Shipwreck Victims Saved

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The five tough fishermen plucked Thursday from a chilled Aleutian Island beach felt so well today their rescue vessel planned to stop off at Dutch Harbor to run a minor errand on the long voyage home to Kodiak.

Word came from the Coast Guard cutter Storis the men were in good condition and would admit only to one sore toe, one small cut on a head, and one-smoke-inflamed eye.

In a seven-hour battle with the surf that pounded over an intervening reef, the Storis saved Capt. George Hamilton of Seattle and four crewmen of the crab boat Cape Spencer.

The five had floundered ashore when their boat broke up on the Akun Island reef. For four days, whipped by snow-throwing winds up to 60 knots, they huddled beneath a cliff on a narrow, rocky beach.

Wreckage of the Cape Spencer washed ashore to give them material for a lean-to shelter and wood for a smoky fire.

A day after the mishap they were spotted by a Coast Guard plane. The Storis set out from Kodiak on her 600-mile rescue mission. Planes tried without success to drop food to the marooned men, who had only a small can of raspberries and a package each of cornflakes and biscuit mix.

Defects Found In Accounts Of Defense Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reports it has found irregularities in the handling of accounts in the office of an aide to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The entire case has been turned over to the Justice Department's Criminal Division for study.

In response to questions, the Pentagon said Friday that the irregularities had occurred in the Budget and Finance Branch in the office of McNamara's administrative assistant. It named no individual as being involved.

On Sick Leave

The Budget and Finance Branch has been headed since 1952 by John A. Wylie, 57. He has been on sick leave since Nov. 1.

The Pentagon said the alleged irregularities first had been noticed during a routine audit last fall. It said the irregularities had involved "failure to follow established Department of Defense accounting procedures."

Asked if Wylie had gone on leave voluntarily, the Pentagon replied: "When the irregularities were discovered, he went on annual leave, but on presentation of a doctor's certificate the character of his leave was changed to sick leave."

Wylie's salary is $17,500.

Details Withheld

The Defense Department declined to give any details of the probe.

"Since the individual involved will be processed in accordance with applicable statutes and civil service regulations," it said, "it is not appropriate to release further information at this time."

The Justice Department also declined comment except to acknowledge that the case had been turned over to it Jan. 16 and been sent to the Criminal Division for study.

The matter came to light when the Defense Department revealed that McNamara had reorganized his office "to provide tighter supervision" over such internal funds as expense accounts.

The post of administrative assistant to the secretary, held by J. R. Loftis, was abolished. It was made plain that Loftis was not involved.

Two Districting Setups Sent To Supreme Court

LANSING (AP)—A Democratic redistricting plan which could allow four counties to control the legislature, and the Republican counter-proposal, reached the State Supreme Court Friday.

All four of the deadlocked Apportionment Commission's Republicans were agreed on their plan, which is based solely on the new Michigan Constitution.

The Democratic "one man, one vote" scheme calls the 1963 State Constitution self-contradictory and relies partly on the principle of "equal protection of the laws."

Submission of the two proposals set the stage for the high court to rule on reapportionment — required by the new constitution — soon after March 2, the date for final oral argument.

Most Populous

The Democratic plan raises the mathematical possibility Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Genesee Counties could elect majorities to both the House and Senate.

The four neighboring southeastern Michigan counties have more than 4 million of the 7.8 million Michigan residents counted in the 1960 census. They are the four most populous of the 83 counties.

The Democratic plan would give the counties a combined total of 60 seats in the 110-seat House and 20 seats in the Senate, which must expand from 34 to 38 members under any reapportionment plan.

The Republican plan would not allow fewer than eight counties to combine for a majority vote in the legislature—and this would not be a tight regional knot of counties.

Area Considered By GOP

The GOP plan adheres closely to the constitution's formula, based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area, whereas the Democratic plan's districts seek equality of population.

The Democratic blueprint is sponsored by Richard Austin of Detroit and Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids.

It has the endorsement of the other two commission Democrats, Ivan Brown of Iron Mountain and Henry Dongvillo of Fountain, who each submitted "80-20" type plans but said they prefer the Austin-Kleiner version.

The Democrats contend that the state Constitution's "equal protection" guarantee (article one) conflicts with the 80-20 formula, and say "it is not possible to partially follow the equal protection requirement.

"There is no such thing as a citizen being 50 per cent equal or 25 per cent equal. . .either you follow the requirement of article one or you don't."

ONE FOR PENINSULA

LANSING (AP) — Digests of the Senate apportionment plans submitted Friday to the State Supreme Court:

Democratic:

Preserved are two-district Kent County, single-district Saginaw County, and the district composed of Berrien and Cass Counties.

Single counties gaining whole districts would be Wayne, from 7 to 13, Oakland from 1 to 3 and Macomb and Genesee both from 1 to 2.

Washtenaw County would cease being a one-county district and Ingham would become one.

The Upper Peninsula would have one senator exclusively and share another with eight counties north of the southern borders of Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency and Alpena Counties. The upper Peninsula now has three senate districts.

Thumb Divided

The three-county Thumb District would be broken up, with Tuscola joining a new eight-county district to the north of it and Huron and Sanilac joining Lapeer and St. Clair Counties in a four-county district.

The extreme West Michigan District — the five-county 26th —would lose Newaygo and pick up Muskegon, which now shares a senator with Ottawa.

Ottawa would join Allegan and Van Buren Counties in another lakeshore district.

Midland and Isabella Counties, which now share a senator with Bay county, would move into a 12 - county district running northwest through the Leelenau Peninsula.

The northernmost inland county district would comprise Newaygo, Mecosta, Montcalm, Gratiot, Clinton and Shiawasse — now parts of three districts.

The new multi - county districts would be Ionia, Eaton, Jackson, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Monroe, Calhoun, St. Joseph, Branch, Barry, Kalamazoo, Livingston and Washtenaw.

Gain For Wayne

Republican:

The Republican plan would also reserve the single Saginaw County District and the district composed of Monroe and Lenawee Counties.

Wayne County would gain three districts, Genesee would go from one to two, Macomb from one to two and Oakland from one to three.

Kent County would lose one of its two present seats.

Ingham would become a single - county district.

Bay would become the anchor of a new district including Tuscola and Huron with Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair making up the other Thumb - area district.

Young Gunman Cheats Posse In Ohio Hills

ATHENS, Ohio. (AP) — Rudy Zamora, a 20-year-old farmhand sought in the brutal slaying of four persons, shot and killed himself today as pursuing deputies closed in.

The large posse heard gunshots as it was stalking the hills six miles southwest of this southeastern Ohio city.

Zamora's body was found on a ridge a half-mile from the multiple murder scene. A tractor was sent up the ridge to bring the body down.

Zamora, a former mental patient said to be of Mexican descent, was believed to be the person who shot to death late Friday four members of a farm family and wounded two others.

Victim Calls For Help

Deputies were called to the two-story farm home about six miles west of here shortly after 7 p.m. Friday after one of the wounded victims, Patricia Wildman, 22, made her way to the home of a neighbor, Glenn McDaniel.

Danny Pierce, 6, nephew of Patricia, also was wounded and escaped. Danny had been shot with a .22-caliber rifle, all the others with a shotgun.

Officers who entered the Wildman home found the bodies of W. M. Wildman, 57; his wife, Mildred, 60; their son, Eugene, 14; and Geneva Pierce, about 26, the dead couple's widowed daughter.

Tried To Get Money

Also found were Dean, 2, and David Pierce, 3, sons of Mrs. Pierce, who had not been harmed.

Mrs. Pierce's husband, Richard, died of a heart attack a month ago while Danny, the son wounded, was with him in the family car.

Patricia Wildman and Danny were admitted to Sheltering Arms Hospital here, where she was reported in fair condition and he in good condition.

The sheriff said he understood from relatives that Zamora had been trying to collect from the family some money he claimed he was owed for work on the farm.

Ruby Jury Pick Starts Monday

DALLAS (AP) — Prosecution and defense in the Jack Ruby murder trial will begin Monday trying to select 12 fair and impartial jurors out of 900 Dallas County citizens.

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli says he feels the task is impossible. He says Dallas is saturated with prejudice against Ruby, who shot Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, before television cameras.

Belli said that this prejudice may cause the rejection of as many as 200 jurors in a single day.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who will seek the death penalty for the 52-year-old former strip joint operator, has repeatedly said he feels a fair jury can be found in Dallas.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown ruled Friday that the true test of determining whether both sides can receive a fair trial depends upon the examination of the prospective jurors.

The judge withheld his decision on a defense motion to move the trial to another Texas city until prospective jurors have been questioned.

He said he had no idea how long this would take.

Belli told newsmen the issue should be resolved in five days. He said that if a fair jury has not been selected by then, he would renew his moves to get the case transferred.

Home Fire Fatal

LANSING (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Keefer, 48, was found dead in her Lansing Township home Friday after a fire damaged the house.

Though Mrs. Keefer suffered burns, the cause of death was not determined. The fire was confined to a spare bedroom. Her husband, Gerald, was at work.

Over 100,000 St. Louisans Out For 200th Birthday

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—More than 100,000 cheering, waving St. Louisans, and 86 civil rights demonstrators, turned out Friday as President Johnson attended the city's 200th birthday celebration.

Police intercepted the demonstrators, took them to headquarters and ordered them home. Later a man with a loaded .32-caliber pistol was apprehended at Lambert-St. Louis Municipal Airport where the presidential plane was parked. He was held for questioning.

Otherwise the President's trip to St. Louis was uneventful. The weather was cool but sunny. He shook hands, planted a tree, toured part of the city and named Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal baseball great, director of the President's physical fitness program.

Gateway Arch Visited

The President was greeted by an estimated total of 2,500 people at the airport on his arrival. They broke into cheers as he walked along the wire fence shaking extended hands.

Thousands more spectators lined multilaned Mark Twain Expressway to watch the presidential motorcade. Many of the watchers were children.

Downtown President Johnson inspected the unfinished gateway arch on the Mississipppi riverfront.

Then, through crowd-thronged city streets, the motorcade went to a slum clearance project near St. Louis University.

In a brief speech to 5,000 students and others, the President waved his hand at the nearby university and declared: "The St. Louis area draws its strength from its fine colleges and universities."

He drew a laugh when he said "I've been aware of the importance of St. Louis since I was a small boy and wore my first pair of Buster Brown shoes."

St. Louis is a shoe manufacturing center.

Swings At Critics

In his principal address to an overflow crowd of 2,100 at a hotel Friday night, President Johnson said he welcomes "fair discussion of honest differences" both at home and abroad.

He took a swing at critics in the United States and overseas who he said "seek political gain from baseless denunciation of the United States."

On the civil rights question he said, "We cannot secure the success of freedom around the world if it is not secure for all citizens in our cities."

The nation's military strength he said, enables Americans to meet each new crisis "from West Berlin to Cuba with both courage and calm."

As he spoke the mass march started in nearby Forest Park, but it was halted five blocks short of the hotel. It was led by members of the St. Louis Committee on Racial Equality, an affiliate of the National Congress of Racial Equality.

The man arrested at the airport was identified as Talma Sawyer, 27, formerly of Cairo, Ill. Police said papers on him indicated he had received an undesirable discharge from the Army earlier in the day. He was arrested at 8:45 p.m. The President left at 9:40 p.m.

Halfway House Survey Ordered

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan is to be surveyed for facilities to serve as halfway houses for juvenile delinquents.

The survey, to be completed within 30 days, was agreed upon Friday at a meeting of county, city and state officials summoned by Gov. George W. Romney.

Walter DeVries, executive secretary to Romney, told the meeting in Romney's absence that the state is ready to submit an emergency budget for financing a program of halfway houses.

The halfway house is an institution proposed for boys with rehabiliation promise who could be removed from Boys Vocational Training School at Lansing.

Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin urged "utmost speed" in establishing halfway houses.

"I am not panicked but we have a serious situation," Girardin said of Detroit's problem with lawbreaking youths.

The Romney administration wants the halfway house program the meeting was told by DeVries and R. Bernard Houston, state welfare director, and Virgil M. Pinckney, superintendent of Boys Vocational.

Chamber Books Parcel Pickup; Boosts Tourism

President John Anthony reported pick-up and delivery service is soon to be instituted by the United Parcel Service in Upper Michigan at the February meeting of directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce this week.

This would make available pick-up of parcels at plants throughout Upper Michigan and delivery to the Milwaukee and Chicago area, expediting the delivery of packages up to 50 per cent over present service time. The United Parcel Service of Detroit has already received approval for service in Michigan and statewide service will go in effect soon.

C-C Manager Walter Lewke reported that wires had been sent to U.S. Senators Philip A. Hart and Patrick McNamara requesting their support in securing a Small Business Administration loan office for Escanaba to assist Great Lakes fishermen in obtaining loans. This would be a short term office

Chamber representation at the midwest travel shows was outlined and Lewke said James G Ward Jr., will represent the Chamber at the travel show in the Chicago Amphitheatre Feb. 21 - March 1, Lewke will distribute literature at the show to be held at McCormick Place in Chicago March 21-29 and William Preffer will represent the Chamber at the Detroit Sportsmen's and Vacation Show at the State Fair grounds March 27 - April 5. The Gladstone and Rapid River Chambers will provide representation at the Minneapolis and Milwaukee shows.

Twenty thousand copies of the Escanaba Daily Press tourism tabloid, 50,000 copies of the Chamber's tourist folder, and 25,000 copies of a Delta County folder provided by the Delta County Board of Supervisors will be used to attract visitors to the Escanaba and Delta County area this year.

Board members were pleased with the Chamber's tourist folder and the Press tabloid, said Lewke. The Delta County folder will be available for later shows.

Director Raymond McDonough, chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee, reported on the organization meeting of his committee at which City Manager George Harvey outlined plans for the city's 10-year plan for city improvements.

Lewke reported on the organization meeting of the Tourism Committee headed by Walter O'Brien and a report was heard on February promotions of the Chamber's Retail Division headed by John Lasnoski, chairman, and Paul Gilbertson, events chairman. These include a Valentine Day promotion and a February birthday sale. The Board was also told of the six-month calendar of events of the Retail Division.

An annual membership dinner of the Chamber has been scheduled for April or May and President Anthony announced that he would appoint a committee to make arrangements for the event.

Plan Community And Vocational School Concept

MENOMINEE — Menominee board of education is taking steps to organize a community school concept and launch a vocational school in the system by calling for applicants for a director of the dual program.

First step is the hiring of a qualified trained director, a new position created by the board. Qualifications include a master's degree plus other necessary studies for the combined program. The salary range was left open by the board pending screening of applicants but a $9,000 figure was discussed as a probability.

The vocational school program, which has been endorsed by 128 persons in professional, industrial and manufacturing occupations in the city, could start immediately upon hiring of a qualified man. The vocational plan would be a 12-month operation for out-of-school youth.

Gar Royal, who has visited the Mott Foundation operation in Flint, said that if the combined program of school concept and vocational study is carried out as planned there is a chance the school may be reimbursed in part for the director's salary from the Mott Foundation.

The community school concept is a program that would make use of school facilities by the entire community on a full time basis. It means use of the schools for any kind of a meeting, square dancing, Golden Age Club, Boy Scouts, card parties, dinners, or any similar program for anyone in the community.

Thousands Get Vision Testing

The Delta-Menominee Health Department's vision conservation program to find vision deficiencies in school children screened 3,276 students in preliminary examination in the current school year, reports Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the department.

The program rescreened 786 children and 349 were referred to eye doctors.

"There was a good response from parents in following through with the referrals made by the vision technicians," said Dr. Cretens. "All follow-up care is being done by the school nurses and Health Department nurses.

"Complete reports will be submitted to the State Health Department, the schools and the Delta Menominee Health Department.

"This service will be offered to the schools again in the school year 1965-66. It is hoped that in the future the program can be extended to cover preschool children."

The vision conservation program was organized to provide for case findings in all the Delta County schools. The objectives of the program are:

1. To find pupils who need complete eye evaluation.

2. To provide information in visual hygiene to pupils, parents, teachers, and the community.

This program is conducted every other year in alternate grades, including referrals from other grades.

Vision testing was done with the Bausch and Lomb vision screener by Mrs. Jeanette Manning, vision technician. Students who failed the test were rescreened at a later date. Reports were given to the schools and the parents were notified if their child failed the vision test.

Gregg Is Named Area Manager

Glenn Gregg

Glenn Gregg of Marquette, regional supervisor of state parks in the Upper Peninsula, is Upper Peninsula Region 1 manager, a new position created by the Department of Conservation on recommendation of a study committee appointed by Gov. Romney.

The Conservation Commission named Gregg manager of the U. P. region; Charles Harris, manager of Region 3 in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula; and C. Troy Yoder as manager in the northern Lower Peninsula Region 2.

Gregg is well known throughout the Upper Peninsula for his supervision of parks and recreation division, a position he has held for 17 years.

A native of East Lansing, he is a graduate of Michigan State Unversity, where he received a degree in landscape architecture, and was formerly with the National Park Service as a landscape foreman in the development of parks in Iron and Gogebic counties.

He began work with the Conservation Department in 1941 in planning and construction of parks in the U. P. and northern Lower Michigan. Gregg was appointed U. P. regional supervisor of parks and recreation in 1946 and has worked actively toward expansion and improvement of state parks.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg reside in Gwinn. Mrs. Gregg is the former Elsie Bullard of Owosso. They have four children.

U.P. Image Gets Poor Focus In Times' Report

The national image of the Upper Peninsula under the buffeting of industrial changes is important to the area's economic rebuilding and it suffers some from press oversimplification.

Witness the following lead paragraph on a long story with picture and map in the New York Times of Monday, Jan. 13:

"Ironwood - "The North Woods, plundered for its timber and facing depletion of its iron ore, is sinking into poverty."

This is sensationalism that presents a distorted picture of an Upper Peninsula area with huge mineral resources, with great and growing wood production, and local problems like marketability for the Gogebic Range's big iron ore deposits.

The total area the Times depicts as "hard hit by poverty" is most of northern Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Upper Peninsula and the top of the Lower Peninsula.

"This brawny, lusty empire of 1.5 million people, embracing 81,000 miles, is a problem area whose difficulties are exceeded only by those of Appalachia.

"Its unemployment rate is twice the national average. In many counties, one of every four men lacks a job."

(The Upper Peninsula's unemployment rate, highest in Michigan, is at its winter peak of 14 per cent of the work force, and this high figure is seasonal. Nowhere in the Upper Peninsula is there a situation where one in four workers are unemployed.)

"The land of Paul Bunyan has slumped steadily in recent years. Out of its virgin forests came the lumber that built most of the houses of the Middle West, but the forests were ravaged by the lumber barons."

(This is an old canard. The forests would have fallen down of old age if they had not been cut The "barons" were no more predatory than their times and many of them went broke pioneering an industry.)

"President Kennedy pledged federal support for a coordinated attack on North Woods poverty . . . Now the governors and senators (of the area) are waiting an indication of interest by President Johnson. They expect that he will announce a regional commission.

"The great Mesabi Range of Minnesota which once produced nearly half the iron ore in the United States, gave work to 9,700 miners in the Hibbing area in 1954. Today there are jobs for only 4,700."

On the Marquette Range today there is development underway which will eventually produce more pelletized iron than has been produced in the past as natural ore. This advance is not so large on the Menominee Range, which has only one big beneficiation plant, and it is not at all true on the Gogebic Range. The situation indicates the local nature of the problems in the Lake States.

The strong inference given by articles like the Times' that the Upper Peninsula is a wasteland with exhausted resources isn't factual and hurts the area's development. Its unemployment has been heavily affected by mechanization of mining and wood industry. A few men can do today in those industries what many were required for in the past. This is as true of Detroit's auto industry as it is of mining and wood industry, but there it is not coupled with decadence and exhaustion, but with industrial change.

In 1962, says Walter Reuther, head of the UAW, the automobile industry produced 3,395,000 more vehicles with 67,000 fewer workers than in 1947. He said 80,000 new jobs a week are needed for the next 10 years just to keep even with unemployment. The unemployed have averaged 5 per cent of the work force for the past 7 months, he said.

Juvenile Bills Are Major Item For Legislature

LANSING (AP) — To the Chinese it may be the Year of the Dragon but to the members of the Michigan Legislature, 1964 is becoming the Year of the Juvenile.

A little more than a month old, this session has witnessed what probably is the greatest and most varied spate of proposed legislation concerning junior citizens in the state's history.

The first three bills introduced in the House this year were proposals for youth camps for persons 17-21, job retraining and job upgrading for school dropouts and unemployed.

Since then, proposals directly concerning juveniles — and others which involve them in remote ways — have flowed into both chambers.

Lower Voting Age?

Overall, the juvenile bills and resolutions probably have received more attention from lawmakers and the press than proposals on any other subject.

Both chambers have resolutions to lower the voting age from 21 to 18, and each of these made headlines when it was introduced.

Much of the debate in the House has concerned bills affecting juveniles — one which would require drivers' licenses for persons under 21 to be a different color, another which would make teen drivers subject to the point system and still another to make parents liable for up to $300 in vandalism committed by their children.

There are bills pending to deal with juveniles smoking, driving cars, purchasing alcoholic beverages, carrying knives, and staying in school to the age of 18 or until they graduate.

In the House there is a resolution to set up a state committee with $90,000 to study the problem of school dropouts, which some experts believe lies close to the root of the delinquency and unemployment problems.

Floggings Suggested

One of the more publicized proposals to date was the bill introduced Thursday by Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, to subject juvenile delinquents to public flogging.

Still in the works is a bill which would outlaw drag-racing on public highways, something which — like many other laws concerning juveniles—is covered only by local ordinances.

Some bills, such as the youth camp and job training proposals sponsored by Rep. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, are fresh versions of legislation introduced in previous years.

Others, such as a bill to outlaw the purchase of cigarettes by persons under 17 or a bill which would make persons under 21 guilty of a misdemeanor by carrying knives, are manifestations of the times.

Rep. James Karoub, D-Highland Park, said he checked Michigan law as a result of the recent publicity about alleged links between smoking and lung cancer, and was "amazed" to find the law permitted minors to buy cigarettes.

The knife bill, according to its sponsor, Rep. William Romano, D-Warren, is inspired by recent attention given to teenage extortionists and molestors in schools.

One veteran legislator who has noticed the increase in juvenile legislation is Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare.

"Some years the big subject will be traffic safety, or mental health, for example," said Strange. "Our mental health waiting list is just as long this year, but you don't hear much about it.

"I guess the juvenile bills—those which are the result of some rather extensive study—are politically popular."

Outlook Bright For Studebaker

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker Corp. lost $16,926,732 in 1963 but expects to be in the black in 1964.

The company quit making automobiles at South Bend, Ind., late last year. It has concentrated car production at its Hamilton, Ont., plant on a smaller scale.

Studebaker reported Friday its 1963 loss compares with earnings of $489,460, in 1962. Sales Rose to $403,314,089 from $365,452,692.

The company said directors had authorized a special charge against 1963 income of $64 million to provide against loses on disposal of the South Bend automotive plant and for equipment, estimated cancellation costs, inventory obsolescence and other costs related to discontinued operations.

"We will be solidly in the black for the first quarter of 1964 and the actions we have taken make it possible also to forecast that 1964 will be a profitable year for the corporation," said Byers A. Burlingame, president.

He noted Studebaker is manufacturing and selling refrigerators, freezers, garden tractors, oil additives, electric generators, thermal plastics, commercial floor cleaning equipment and many other products.

Vision Of 1965

Copper Harbor Corp. is organizing a resort development project at Copper Harbor on the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula, hard by Fort Wilkins State Park, that is one of the brightest stars in the constellation of the Upper Peninsula's hopes for growth as a tourist and resort area.

The Copper Country is separate and special in the Upper Peninsula. The first part of the Upper Peninsula settled intensively—it was the scene of the first mineral rush in America in the early 1840s—Keweenawland has fascinated geologists always. And it is just as attractive to esthetes, because it is an area of beauty unsurpassed in Mid-America.

As copper mining there declined, the reason for going to the Copper Country diminished, except for its recreational attractions. These would be greatly enhanced by the projected development at Copper Harbor. It would be a sort of coastal Sun Valley on the spine of Brockway Mountain and its influence would be felt throughout the Peninsula. Persons attracted by its opulence and fame would discover many other attractions of the Upper Peninsula and the recreational image of the whole area would be enhanced.

With the new Gogebic resorts, Isle Royale National Park, Copper Harbor, Superiorland, Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore, Tahquamenon Falls, the St. Mary's River Ship Canal, Mackinac Island, Big Mac, the furnaces of Fayette State Park and the Peninsula's other attractions, it will have a complex of attractions which will attract the rich and idle, the poor and hustling, the studious and the butterflies.

The Copper Harbor project is a test of the Upper Peninsula as well as of its developers. The latter have been so impressed with the beauty of the area and with its other cash assets in recreational potential that they have spent years of preparation on the plans for the resort. It will be big and handsome, fitted into a setting of natural beauty at the end of a mountainous Peninsula that is eye-filling all the way.

The project as it emerges is a pooling of ideas and resources. It grew from area conviction that such a development was inevitable, but its action stage traces to a ski accident at the Porcupine Mountain State Park slope in which Mrs. Bruce Reid of Milwaukee was injured. While she was convalescent her husband, a business enterpriser and developer and former mortgage banker, became impressed with the possibilities of resort development in the area.

His further studies took him to the tip of Keweenaw in company with Jim Westcoat, a local Kit Carson of the motel business at Copper Harbor. Westcoat owned a site for the ideal resort, but when Reid's landscape architects inspected the area they chose another site. Here, where two miles of shining great sea waters of Lake Superior fill Copper Harbor and where Brockway dips 515 feet vertically to form a great natural ski slope, the great lodge and other facilities of the resort will be built.

The plans have been off and on several times. They got what should be a clear track to construction with authorization of a $625,000 Area Redevelopment Administration loan. The U.P. and Michigan will be asked to divvie, too, and the enterprisers will be major investors. The timing seems fortuitous. Recreational business is now well established as a major growth element in the economy and we're near D-Day for discovery of the U.P. as a great natural playground for the Midwest.

It's symbolic that Calumet & Hecla, Inc., and Copper Range Co. own part of the site. They've been historic parts of the Copper Country's economy. Now it has opportunity for new dimensions in a new enterprise that isn't a wasting industry like copper mining. The beauty of Keweenaw is as durable at Gibraltar, and much older.

Finding The Way

Look Up – Seek Beauty

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

A recent visit to the Cloisters in New York renewed remembrance of the glories of medieval art. Here men have gathered together some of the choice reminiscences of another time, another age. Originally built to be the home of monks or the gathering place for peoples, these rooms are now viewed for their artistic worth. The elaborate wood carving, the precise tapestries and the ornate embellishments remind the viewer that this was not an age of the assembly line. It was a time of the individual craftsman.

We can't go back to that age nor would we desire to do so, but one wonders about our own so functional style. We have become so austere that any of our design begins to look artificial.

There is point to the comment of Norman Birnbaum; "The typical American today is, in fact, a Calvinist with neither fear of hell nor hope of heaven."

That's a false generalization, but the bite is there.

And if some wealthy man gathered remembrances of our age, what shiny gadget or shining, brittle thing would tell of what we really are?

The view of another age is at least the urge to look at today with imagination. It was a joy to discover a painting by Charles Burchfield, luminous in its cool, gray beauty and lofty lines — a winter scene entitled, "Winter on Linwood Avenue." This is my street and this is our wintertime and I could have missed this wonder.

We need to restudy our concepts of heaven and hell, our understanding of the meaning and destiny of man, our fundamental concepts of what we call our values.

These are more than little embellishments. They are the facts which give reason to the embellishment of life.

They state the case for thoughtfulness, they give substance to courtesy, they give meaning to action, they give joy to existence. They proclaim the courtesy of God, that love which outstrips that which we too cheaply typify as sentiment.

It is good to discover that men in some ages have thought that a door was more than a door, and so made it beautiful. Today I'm content with the efficiency of the door, but there is a yearning for some reason for the efficiency, some meaning beyond the efficiency and some function for the maddening race.

"When you see these things," said Jesus, "look up." Just now we need to do that looking-up.

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Sen. Barry Goldwater and his key organization men assemble in Chicago Sunday for what may prove the largest, most inclusive organizing and strategy conference ever held in a presidential nominating campaign.

At the O'Hare Inn, a motel near Chicago's airport, this hitherto unpublicized meeting will draw 60 to 70 Goldwater leaders—the senator's Washington headquarters group, led by Denison Kitchel, Richard Kleindienst and F. Clifton White, the regional chairmen, some 40 state chairmen and assorted others.

The session will run all day. Goldwater himself, flying east from Phoenix that morning, will manage about a four-hour stopover at the conference on his way to Washington.

The conferees will gather in what might be described as a mood of "nervous confidence."

The many realists in the Goldwater camp believe genuinely that Goldwater still has an immense lead for the 1964 nomination on the Republican tickete at San Francisco. But they see as well as anyone the cracks that have developed in their facade since President Kennedy's assassination.

One leader, running over heartening delegate figures as now projected, suddenly paused and said:

"But—if we don't make it in these primaries, they'll scatter like doves."

The Chicago gathering will have as one major task a better threading together of the massive, sprawling but thus far too loosely woven Goldwater organization.

Never lacking for Indians, this movement only recently acquired its true chiefs. They have barely begun pulling the whoopers into effective line.

Twelve days after "Sunday in Chicago" the first two among many state conventions will be choosing national convention delegates. The time for mere talk will end. Strategists will be counting delegates in the bank.

At Chicago there will be status reports on Goldwater's delegate position in every state.

★ ★ ★

It is an established working principle in Goldwater's circle (Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's, too) that the June 2 California primary bringing the two men into collision is the pivot point of the 1964 race. The prize: 86 votes.

Goldwater's strategic problem with regard to California, a matter needing careful review at Chicago, is two fold:

1. To campaign persuasively within the state.

2. To bring to bear elsewhere, as early as possible, his acknowledged strength, in hope of building a winning psychology which could have important effect on the California decision.

The difficulties of campaigning in huge, diverse California are legendary and need no new emphasis.

On the second point, Goldwater could help his cause mightily with clean-cut victories in New Hampshire and Oregon. A big pileup of votes in the many state conventions also could have commanding influence.

Yet New Hampshire and Oregon threaten murky results. The convention timetable, skimpy in the early months, does not favor a pre-California bandwagon. A sizable list of big states, some tied to favorite sons, will hold their votes off the market until very late.

Goldwater's high command, assembling in unprecedented numbers, thus has its labors well marked out.

Port Authority Bill Held Back

LANSING (AP) — A bill to create a port authority touched off a vote fight in the Senate Thursday when it was pointed out that the bill could lead to purchase of privately - owned tunnels and bridges.

Sen. Kent Lundgren, R - Menominee, sponsor of the bill, asked it be assigned to the committee he heads public utilities. On a show of hands, it appeared at first that he had won, 8-7. The bill originally had been assigned to the State Affairs Committee.

Purpose Explained

Sen. Thomas Schwigert, R - Petoskey, asked "is this the bill we've had in previous years for the purchase of Windsor Tunnel and Ambassador Bridge?"

"I don't know we'd get into a debate before the bill even got introduced," shot back Lundgren. "The bill takes in many things."

Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D - Detroit, minority floor leader, called for a vote by name on the State Affairs Committee.

After the session, Lundgren said the purpose of his bill was "to coordinate public and private port development," but added that it could be used to buy the Detroit - Windsor links and the Mackinac and Soo Bridges.

"The controversy between private and public port development has been raging for years. We've got to do something before we start cutting each other's throats and wind up with nothing — outstripped by neighboring states.

Competition In East

"You can't have the individual ports competing with each other when you get into the big scale foreign shipping."

"You know the big eastern interests are doing everything they can to keep the international shipping business on the east coast," Lundgren said.

The 1963 legislature killed a Lundgren - sponsored bill to create a "bridge and tunnel authority."

The new bill would authorize the "Michigan Port Authority" to "acquire or construct port facilities, airports, bridges, tunnels and highway facilities."

It would also authorize issuance of revenue bonds and provide for "the collection of tolls, rates, rents, fees and other changes for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance...."

Flint Workers Plug For Early Retirement Plan

DETROIT (AP) — A rally aimed at consolidating support for an early retirement drive being spearheaded by Flint leaders within the United Auto Workers Union is scheduled here today.

Flint spokesmen said they expected 100 representatives from union locals in five states.

Jack Wagner, president of Flint's Buick Local 599, said 22 Michigan locals with a combined membership of more than 150,000 have thrown their support behind the so-called "25-30 and 60-Now" plan.

It proposes that workers with 25 years service be permitted to retire at half pay, regardless of age; that those with 30 years get two-thirds pay, and that any 60 years of age now be allowed to retire at twice the current rate of $2.80 monthly for each year of service.

Wagner said his group would push to make the "25-30 and 60-Now" plan the No. 1 goal in contract bargaining with the auto industry this year.

The rally here, Wagner said, is part of a campaign to win support for the plan when it is presented to the UAW's goal-setting convention at Atlantic City March 20-26.

Bud Lawley, vice president of Flint's Chevrolet Local 659, said representatives are due in Detroit Saturday from locals in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri, as well as Michigan.

Oklahoma City Has Sonic Booms 8 Times A Day

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—The nation's sonic boom laboratory, a long slice through Oklahoma City's residential area, is taking the jarring in stride—to a point.

Most folks are getting used to the booms, which sound like thunder. They're coming now eight times a day.

The Federal Aviation Agency reported it received 655 calls during the first week of the tests, which started Feb. 3. Many were complaints, officials said, but most were just from persons who wanted to know what was happening.

The most serious objection came Wednesday when a plumber, Woodrow W. Bussey, filed a suit in federal court seeking to halt the tests.

Bussey, 46, named FAA Administrator Najeeb Halaby in the suit filed in behalf of his daughter, Julie, 5. Bussey claims the tests have impaired his daughter's hearing, and have aggravated an existing condition in his inner ear.

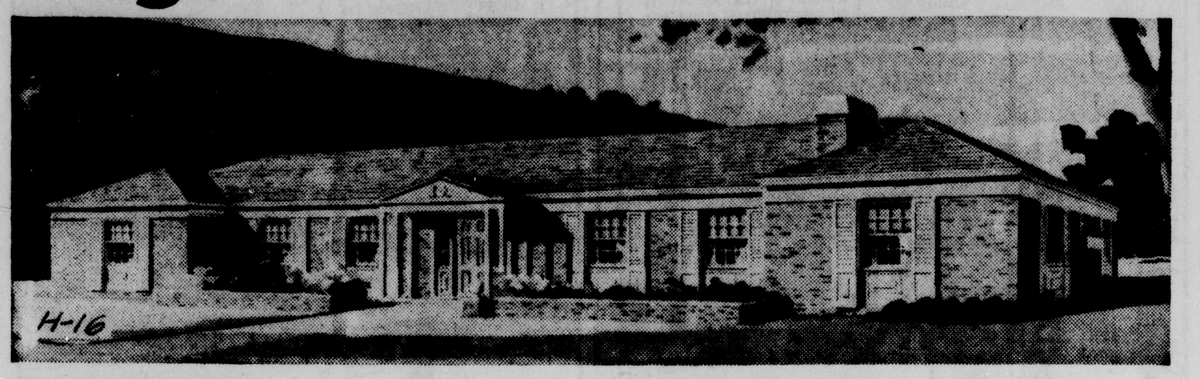
House of the Week

Elegant And Comfortable



STATELY ELEGANCE: This handsome four-bedroom home of empire design has a facade which implies interior elegance. This the house has in full measure, but it also contains a comfortable and informal family activity area perfectly suited to modern living needs.

A one - story colonial home would seem to be a contradiction in terms, but this exquisite four-bedroom house proves that modern convenience and traditional charm can go together quite nicely.

The house has a typical center foyer and hall separating the living and dining rooms, and the formal balance is maintained in the almost sculptured exterior.

Yet the balance is in no way contrived or forced. It is completely natural right down to the location of doors, windows and breaks in the facade, and the interior layout is unhampered by the rigid outline of the exterior walls.

The house was designed by architect Rudolph A. Matern as H-16 in the House of the Week series.

While its stately facade clearly implies graciousness and formality on the inside — and these qualities are included in full measure—Matern did not overlook the need for informal daily living facilities in these days of growing leisure time.

In fact one of the main features of the house is the expertly integrated indoor-outdoor area in the rear; the combination of family room and recessed terrace porch which assures comfortable and expansive living, dining, playing or just plain relaxing.

Architectural trimmings, which Matern always employs with great restraint, are tasteful and discriminating both inside and out.

Two that deserve special mention are the deep-well planter between the sink counter and the front window in the kitchen, and the fireplace in the master bedroom. Both are included with a minimum of additional expense, and each provides a touch of glamor that gives homemaking a measure of excitement.

Excluding the garage and storage areas the house contains 2,055 square feet of living area in over-all dimensions of 85'1" wide by 34'8" deep.

Additional Details

The daytime activity area in this house is carefully arranged to provide free traffic flow and a clear separation of rooms and, at the same time, a maximum of step-saving convenience for the housewife.

The angled wall in the family room opens it to the kitchen just enough so it can be used as a breakfast room also. The kitchen is similarly convenient to the mud room and laundry, basement stairs, and garage entry. And the kitchen itself is a model of efficiency, featuring a U-shaped work area and a curved counter which eliminates wasteful corner space.

A handsome fireplace, visible from the foyer, is the focal point in the formal living room. The room has an abundance of wall space for easy furniture arrangement, yet has plenty of ventilation with two windows overlooking the front garden.

The living room fireplace and the bedroom fireplace also feature floor-to-ceiling brick with the fireplace opening offset.

The fireplace isn't the only luxurious feature in the master bedroom. It also has a full bath, a spacious walk-in closet, and two oversized wall closets.

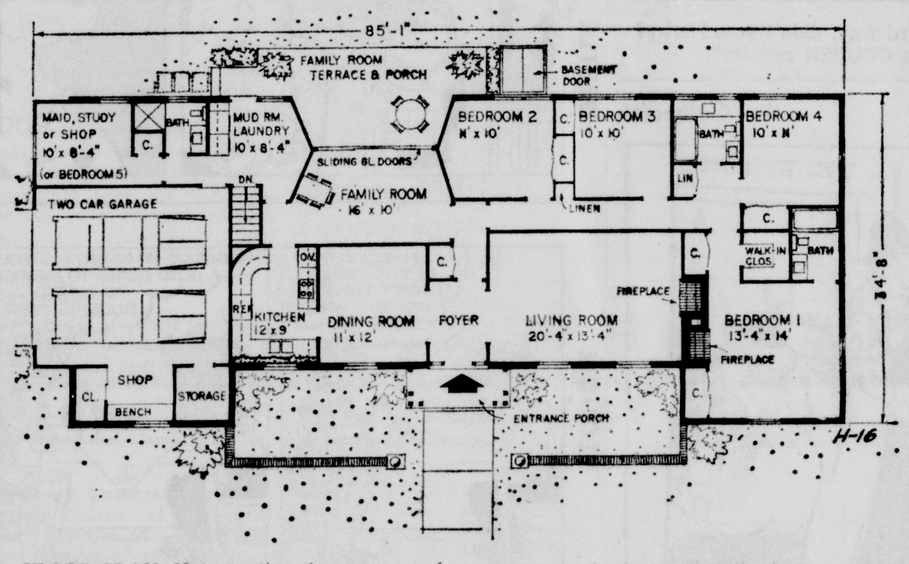
Family bedrooms are all well proportioned, well ventilated, and similarly well equipped with adequate closet space. There is a linen closet in the bedroom hallway and a large linen closet in the family bathroom. The bathroom is designed for a large family—two lavatories and an extra large vanity.

Tucked away in a corner of the house is a 10' by 8'4" room which can serve as a den, maid's room or, in a pinch, a fifth family bedroom. A full bath is convenient, and two outside entrances (at the rear and in the garage) provide complete privacy.

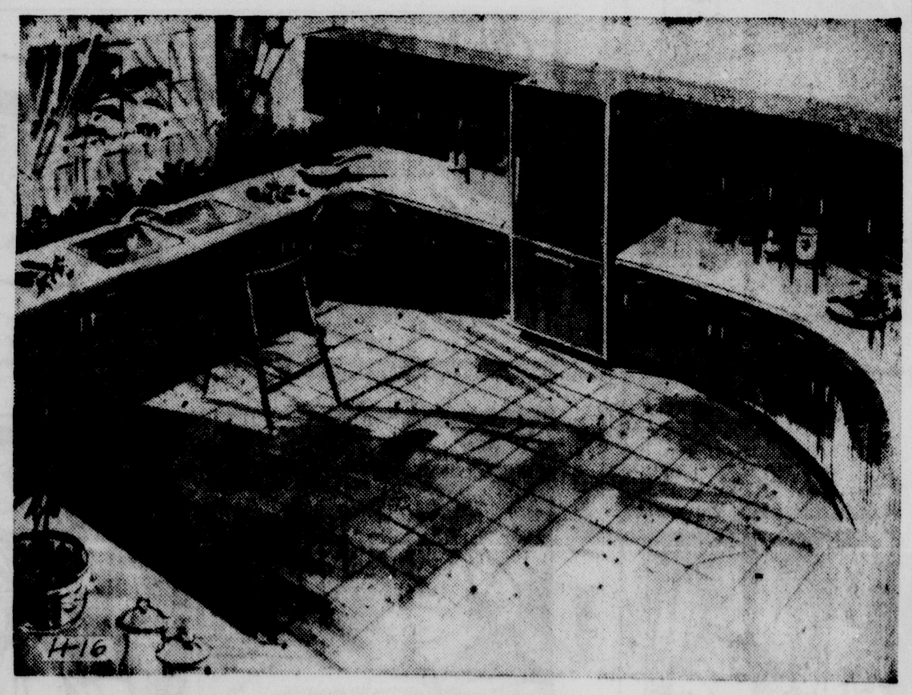
The garage also is well designed with its own storage closets and a recessed area for a workbench.

STATISTICS H-16

A one-story home of empire design with four bedrooms, three baths, full basement and extra room which could serve as den or fifth family bedroom. Excluding garage and storage areas the house contains 2,055 square feet of living area in over-all dimensions of 85'1" wide by 34'8" deep.



FLOOR PLAN: Not counting the garage and storage areas the house contains 2,055 square feet of living area in over-all dimensions of 85'1" wide by 34'8" deep. Exterior is of brick veneer with clapboards at the garage extension.



DECOROUS KITCHEN: A deep-well planter between the sink counter and the window overlooking the front garden adds a dramatic touch of glamor to this well designed kitchen. The counter in the lower right of the sketch is curved to eliminate wasted corner space.

Hardboard Has Multiple Uses

AP Newsfeatures

You can liven a room with ingenious window treatment and decorative touches to permit more storage space. Interior designer Fred Shrallow did this in his own one-room, L-shaped apartment to achieve just such an effect.

He used pierced hardboard, the material originaly made to be used as shutter doors. These panels are available in a number of designs offering various degrees of visibility depending on the pierced pattern.

At windows he used three panels vertically and panels across the top to frame handsome citron yellow shades. One panel ran down a window that was twice as large as the one adjoining it so that the effect was of three windows all the same size.

In another area of the room, at the "L," he created a room divider-storage unit by making the panels a double width with 15 inches of space between and a panel that opens into a storage area with shelves. The room created by the storage divider is used as an office and dining area. The storage wall was attached to horizontal wooden boards on the floor and at the ceiling. Doors may be put on hinges or hung any other way.

Shrallow's apartment is large so he created other storage areas with the panel board by squaring out corners.

Another interesting space saver is a bed-lounge which is pushed under a table about halfway, permitting it to be used as an ottoman during the day and as a sleeping unit for guests at night.

"This must fit under the table so that only half of it shows," Shrallow advises. "Otherwise it won't look good." The bed is covered in lemon yellow, as is its mate which is used along a wall next to the table.

Another decorative innovation was carried out by adding two oblong pieces of leftover pierced hardboard to the citron yellow shades, front and back, to serve as pulls. Shrallow trimmed down a couple of scraps and glued them to the shade. But he thinks a better idea might be to screw them to the window shade slats.

State Parks Will Not Allow Dogs

LANSING (AP) — Dogs will be banned from state parks and recreation areas this summer.

The ruling by the Conservation Commission today was prompted by 36 known dog bite cases in the parks last year and numerous complaints of the dogs howling at night, fighting and dirtying camp grounds.

The only exceptions will be seeing eye dogs, pets of park employes living on the premises, and dogs hunting or being trained in areas open to such use.

Ann Landers

Son Of Boss Rated As Creep

Dear Ann Landers: My father is constantly urging me to accept dates with his boss' son. Chauncy digs me but he is a creep.

In the first place, Chauncy doesn't dance and has no desire to learn. He thinks my friends are wierdies and I think his friends are stuck-up and boring.

Every time I light a cigarette Chauncy gives me a lecture on lung cancer. If I order French fries he goes on and on about fried food and stomach trouble.

Chauncy's idea of a blast is to go somewhere with his parents. My idea of fun is to get as far away as possible from the old museum pieces.

I'm 16 and mature enough to pick up my own friends. Please say so in your column and get my father off my back. — SACRIFICIAL LAMB

Dear Lamb: It's always a mistake for parents to try to play Cupid for their children. Some perfectly good romances are knocked right in the head because of parental sponsorship.

In this case it's especially unfortunate because if you had discovered Chauncy on your own you might have liked him —and perhaps even learned something in the bargain.

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a husband who expects perfection in all our friends? Last night I counted 20 couples with whom we were once on very good terms. We don't see these people anymore because my husband picked them to pieces.

The longest we've been able to maintain a friendship is about two years. After that the woman's laugh becomes irritating, or the husband brags too much, or he cheats at cards or his wife wears too much eye make-up.

Last night it happened again. After Mr. and Mrs. X left, my husband said, "Well, that's enough of them. Can you imagine anybody in his right mind supporting Scranton for President? Don't invite them here again and don't accept any invitations to their place."

Please tell me what to do.— RUNNING OUT OF FRIENDS

Dear Running: I checked your envelope and am happy you live in Minneapolis. At the rate your husband is going, you'll need to look in a different city for friends, and it's nice that St. Paul is close.

People who are severely critical of others are essentially displeased with themselves. When your husband thinks better of himself he will then have a better opinion of others.

Dear Ann Landers: My 24-year-old daughter was divorced in 1961. Since that time I have been taking care of her children while she works. The oldest is in the first grade and the youngest will be ready for kindergarten next fall.

I love my grandchildren very much but they wear me out and tie me down. I've been looking forward to the time when both children would be in school so I could take it easier.

Yesterday my daughter told me she is pregnant. The man is not able to marry her as he has a wife and family. I want her to go to a home for unwed mothers and put the baby up for adoption, but she wants to keep the child. When I told her I don't have the strength to raise another child, she called me a terrible mother and said I was letting her down when she needed me most.

Now I feel guilty. Please straighten around my thinking. —BIG DECISION

Dear Decision: It's the same old story—"What have you done for me lately?"

Don't ask your daughter—tell her that you will not raise the child and let her know she has no choice. Your suggestion is by far the best for the child, the mother, and for you.

PTA Founders' Day Meeting Monday Night

A special observance of PTA Founders' Day will be held in Escanaba Monday evening, Feb. 17. The program will begin at 8 in the new Senior High School auditorium.

Speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Gordon Thorpe of Immanuel Lutheran Church. His remarks will be of great interest to all area parents and citizens who are concerned with the welfare of children. A discussion will follow the pastor's talk.

The Student String Ensemble will present musical selections under the direction of Mrs. Clara Embs and presentation of the PTA birthday cake will be another feature.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow the program and prizes will be awarded schools having the highest percentage of attendance.

General chairman of this year's observance is Mrs. Leo Niquette.

Those attending are reminded to use the rear door on the west end of the high school building.

Founders Day, Feb. 17, commemorates the day when the PTA idea took on the force and vituality of a nation-wide movement, Mrs. Niquette points out. For it was on that day in 1897 that some 2,000 persons went to Washington, D. C., to discuss "questions most vital to the welfare of children and the manifold interests of the home."

In 1910 Mrs. David O. Mears, one of the original members of the Congress, suggested that Founders Day should always be observed as a significant anniversary by the National Congress — and by everyone concerned with the needs of children and youth.

Pastor Thorpe

Each year since then, PTA members have honored the founders. And, through the Founders Day gift, they have helped to ensure ever stronger and more effective local, state, and national parent-teacher action for children.

CARE OF CHILD'S HAIR

Woman's Club Offers Shrubbery For New School

The Escanaba Women's Club, which last year gave the Retarded Childrens School Building Fund $500, has offered to purchase the shrubbery for the new school on the Webster School campus.

In offering its latest gift the Woman's Club stated that with the nearing completion of the new building the grounds should also be beautified and that it would like to share in this project by supplying the shrubs.

"The Retarded Children's Association is sincerely appreciative of the continued support that local organizations have shown and are very proud that their project to help the retarded children of Delta County receive a schooling has the backing of so many groups," said President Albert Valind.

Scallops The French Way

SCALLOPS AND Mushrooms in a creamy, wine-flavored sauce are baked and served in individual scallop shells.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Interest in French cuisine goes on and on. Now we're asked how to prepare French-style scallops and mushrooms, the dish that is rich and creamy, and served in scallop shells.

For the sauce some good French cooks use dry white vermouth instead of the usual white wine, and this we follow here. But if you have a bottle of dry white wine on hand that is to be opened, you may of course want to use it.

This is a rich dish. Crusty French bread, a cooked green vegetable, and a tossed salad are the only accompaniments needed.

FRENCH-STYLE SCALLOPS AND MUSHROOMS

1 pound medium-small mushrooms
5 tablespoons butter
1 pound sea scallops, thawed if frozen
¾ cup dry white vermouth
¼ cup water
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup light cream
Buttered soft bread crumbs

Wipe or wash mushrooms clean, and dry; slice medium thin. If stems are long their ends may be sliced separately into rounds. In a 10-inch skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the butter; add mushrooms and cook rapidly and briefly so as not to gather juices; reserve.

Wipe scallops with a damp cloth. Turn into a saucepan with the vermouth, water, bay leaf, salt and pepper. Bring just to the boiling point and simmer until just opaque through — five minutes or longer, do not overcook or scallops will toughen. Drain and reserve 1 cup of the broth. Quarter each scallop (chunk-style) and reserve.

In the clean saucepan over low heat melt the remaining 3 tablespoons butter; stir in the flour. Add the reserved 1 cup scallop broth and the cream; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Add the sauteed mushrooms and cooked quartered scallops. Spoon into 6 scallop or other baking shells; sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until bubbling hot and crumbs are golden — about 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Note: To prepare the buttered soft bread crumbs, remove the crusts from 3 slices of firm-type white bread and crumb; mix with a tablespoon or two of melted butter.

Smoking Effect Rated Harmful During Pregnancy

One aspect of the danger inherent in cigarette smoke that has not been featured in the recent flurry of anti-smoking literature is the effect of smoke on the unborn infant, says Dr. Mary L. Cretens of the Delta Menominee Health Dept.

"Today about 48 per cent of the mothers of infants and small children are smokers. Recent studies have shown that cigarette smoking by the mother does affect the unborn infant."

A Baltimore Health Department study showed that by smoking a pack of cigaretets a day, a pregnant woman doubles her chance of having a smaller or premature baby, said Dr. Cretens. The more cigarettes smoked, the greater chance of having a premature infant. Fetal death rates were also twice as high in smokers as compared to non-smokers.

These same findings have been noted by other investigating groups, she said. Another study carried out by the U. S. Public Health Service showed that generally a mother's heart speeds up slightly when she smokes a cigarette or two. The baby's heart also speeds up but the change in rate is greater, in fact, it averages up to nineteen beats a minute above the normal average.

Because of these findings more and more physicians are trying to get female patients to quit smoking, especially during their pregnancies.

Trotter Sets Scoring Record

Crusaders Win 11th By Two-Point Edge

GWINN — Frank Trotter turned in one of the greatest shooting exhibitions seen in Upper Peninsula basketball circles this season to lead the Holy Name Crusaders to a 68-66 victory over Gwinn here Friday night.

The 5 foot 10 inch junior guard set a new Holy Name High School scoring record by burning the nets with 42 points on 18 field goals and six free throws.

That broke the former Crusader point standard of 40, set by John Berrigan against Marinette Lourdes in January 1956, at the Holy Name gym.

Trotter's 18th field goal in the final minute of the game gave Holy Name a 67-66 lead and Frank Stupak provided the final point on a free throw with eight seconds remaining.

The Crusaders raced to a 24-19 lead in the first period with Trotter clicking with deadly accuracy on eight of 11 shots. Dave Copely kept Gwinn within shooting distance with four straight field goals.

John Fallon took over Gwinn's scoring chores in the second period, pumping in 15 points, as the Model Towners cut their deficit to 40-39. Trotter took the halftime rest with 24 points.

After both teams had hit 50 per cent of their shots in the first half, the pace slowed down in the third quarter. Holy Name was able to sink only three of 19 field goal attempts, many of them from close range. Gwinn edged ahead 54-53 entering the final period.

It was tight through the fourth quarter with Gwinn leading at one stage by five points 62-57. Four field goals by Trotter and a bucket by Ben Yagodzinski wiped out the deficit.

Trotter found the range with 18 of 34 field goal attempts for 53 per cent. The Crusaders as a team tallied 27 of 70 for 39 per cent.

Outscored by three field goals, Holy Name hit on 14 of 25 from the foul line for the margin of victory. Gwinn converted six of nine gift shots.

Yagodzinski, turning in an outstanding performance on defense, chipped in with 11 points.

Gwinn had a 47 to 38 edge in the rebounding department. The Model Towners were led in scoring by Fallon with 24 points.

Holy Name won the jayvee preliminary 58-55.

Kyle To Quit Coaching Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Kyle Rote announced Friday night that he had resigned his position as backfield coach of the New York Giants but will remain with the club in a public relations capacity.

Rote, 35, who holds the club record for touchdowns, had held the coaching job for two years following his retirement as an active player.

Finley Silent About Problems

KANSAS CIY (AP — With the deadline on a lease agreement only hours away at midnight, the star of the Kansas City story—Charles O. Finley—remained silent today about his problems with city officials.

The American League has given Finley, owner of the Athletics, until midnight tonight to reach agreement on a lease for Municipal Stadium with the city. If he fails to come up with a lease by then, Finley faces possible expulsion from the league.

The stormy executive was not available Friday for comment on the pressing situation.

But Joseph W. McKenney of the league office said, "We have tried to be fair to both sides."

Asked about revocation of the franchise, McKenney said:

"All that will be taken up in due time."

Mayor Ilus Davis of Kansas City said he and city council's baseball committee are available to meet on short notice until the deadline if someone comes up with a new proposal.

No one has come up lately with anything but a lot of sizzling words and constant disagreement. The city wants Finley to sign a four or five-year lease. Finley will go for only two.

The league owners, at a meeting last month, gave Finley until Feb. 1 to reach agreement with Kansas City after rejecting his bid to move to Louisville. The deadline later was extended until today.

The AL's board of directors met in a highly secretive session in Boston Thursday night. It was not known what the directors discussed.

Gladstone Edges Emeralds 56-55 For Fifth Win

GLADSTONE — Coach Bill Wood's Gladstone Braves won the battle of the scoreboard clock and a Great Lakes Conference victory here Friday night, nipping Manistique 56-55.

After the Braves blew a six point lead entering the final quarter, the teams battled neck and neck down the stretch.

The lead changed hands four times in the final minute of the game and Manistique led 55-52 with 25 seconds remaining. Bob Randall hit a field goal for the Braves to cut the deficit to 55-54.

The ball traded hands quickly and then the confusion began Manistique had possession but traveled and the Braves were given the ball out of bounds with three seconds remaining.

After a lengthy discussion among the coaches, officials and timer, the clock was backed up to give the Braves six seconds when it was determined that the timer had failed to stop the clock when the referee signaled a violation.

The Braves tossed in to Tom Domres who passed to Tom Watson. Watson's shot was partly blocked by Jon Cameron but the Gladstone senior grabbed the rebound and batted it into the hoop to give the Braves their one-point margin of victory.

Gladstone raced to a 17-8 lead in the first period but Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Emeralds rallied to narrow the gap to 31-29 at halftime. Gladstone entered the final period with a 44-38 cushion.

Randall had one of his best nights with a 26 point scoring effort while Watson chipped in 13 and grabbed 20 rebounds. Randall scored 18 of his points in the first half.

The Emeralds had three players in double figures, led by Brawley with 14 points.

Both teams scored 23 of 75 field goals for 30 per cent while Gladstone converted 10 of 17 from the foul line. The Emeralds cashed in on nine of 13.

HERMANSVILLE — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins continued their cage comeback here Friday night by defeating Channing 96-71 in Big Eight Conference action.

The Redskins reached a season scoring peak while winning their third straight game and their 10th against five defeats for the season.

Five Redskins reached double digit scoring, headed by sharpshooter Ron Povolo with 32 points. Big Bob Roelle paced the Railroaders with 22.

Povolo hit his total in three quarters as the Redskins built up a huge 82-53 lead and Hill sent his subs into action.

The victory gave the Redskins revenge for a 75-67 setback suffered to the Railroaders earlier in the season.

Hermansville had Richard Gordon, Dick Polazzo and Richard LaCoursier in double figures behind Povolo.

The Redskin reserves won the jayvee game 63-51.

Carney Wolves Capture 15th Straight To Clinch Big Eight League Crown

CARNEY—The Carney Wolves sunk their teeth into their first Big Eight Conference championship here Friday night, whipping Felch 71-56.

The victory was Carney's 15th straight this season and gave the Wolves an 11-0 record to clinch the conference championship. Felch was Carney's closest challenger in the Big Eight race.

The triumph also extended Carney's home court victory string to 20 games.

The Wolves, shooting for the first perfect record in the school's history, have three games remaining against Channing, Alpha and Powers-Spalding. They close their season in a home stand against the Tigers Feb. 28.

Carney moved out to an 18-11 lead in the first period. Coach Bob Kuntze's Wolves led 36-28 at halftime and 49-41 entering the final quarter. They chilled any hopes Felch had for an upset by outscoring the Foresters 22-15 down the stretch.

Cliff Perras paced four Carney cagers in double figures with 18 points, followed by Jim Haight with 16, Earl LaCount 11 and Mike Moran 10. Perras also paced the Wolves off the boards, grabbing 18 rebounds.

Carney scorched the nets with a sizzling shooting exhibition, hitting on 31 of 54 shots from the court. The Wolves added nine of 20 free throws while Felch hit on 22 of 63 field goals and 12 of 23 free throws.

Bob Mattson topped the scoring for Coach Carl Lemin's Felch quint with 20 points.

Carney made a sweep of it by winning the jayvee preliminary game, 67-42.

Rudyard Sets Scoring Mark

RUDYARD — Coach Bill Howe's Rudyard Bulldogs set a school scoring record in defeating Cheboygan 103-45 in a downstate game Friday night.

The 103 points snapped the school record of 97, set in 1956 when Howe was a player at Rudyard.

The Bulldogs, hitting 52 percent of their shots, had four players in double figures, led by Ron Lintz with 28 points. Joel Ploegstra had 24, Rick Crews 17 and Al Morehouse 16. Ploegstra and Morehouse had 20 rebounds apiece for the defending U.P. champs who notched their 11th victory in 12 starts.

Undefeated Bruins Near Tourney Berth

By The Associated Press

The picture is getting a bit clearer for next month's NCAA postseason tourney that determines the national collegiate basketball champion.

The first to practically clinch a berth in the 25-team field is the nation's top-ranked team, UCLA. The unbeaten Bruins walloped Washington 73-58 Friday night for their 20th straight and to all intents assured themselves of the Big Six title which carries with it an automatic placing in the NCAA championship tourney.

Subject to revision because of possible surprises in the closing weeks of the regular season, the following appear to have the best chance of filling the remaining berths:

Atlantic Coast—Duke. Mid Atlantic—LaSalle or Temple. Yankee—Connecticut. Southern—Davidson or West Virginia. Ivy—Princeton or Yale. Mid American—Ohio U. or Miami of Ohio. Ohio Valley — East Tennessee. Southeastern — Kentucky or Georgia Tech. Big Ten—Michigan or Ohio State. Southwest—Texas A&M or Texas Tech. Western Athletic—Utah or New Mexico. Missouri Valley—Drake or Wichita. Big Eight—Oklahoma State or Kansas State. West Coast Athletic—San Francisco.

Chicago Loyola, the national champions, probably will get an at-large berth despite five defeats so far. regon State, Texas Western, DePaul, Oklahoma City, Villanova, Creighton, Seattle, Utah State and NYU are other prominent independents doubtless under consideration.

The NIT, the other major postseason tourney, probably will first invite Providence, the 1963 winner, which boasts a 12-game winning streak. St. John's N.Y., St. Bonaventure, Memphis State, Iona and Miami, Fla. are among those likely being considered to fill the other 11 posts.

UCLA's speed and the combined 37 points by Gail Goodrich and Walt Hazzard were too much for the outclassed Washington Huskies.

Oregon State, ninth-ranked in The Associated Press Poll, defeated Seattle 76-72 and Arizona State romped against Brigham Young 110-85 in other Friday night games.

Princeton, Yale, Penn and Cornell continued in a four-way tie for first in the Ivy League. Princeton trampled Dartmouth, 100-46, Yale downed Columbia, 76-63, Penn defeated Harvard, 60-49 and Cornell took Brown, 90-77.

Colleges Fight Pro Grid Plans For Friday TV

KANSAS CITY (AP — A strong stand against plans to televise five National Football League games next fall on Friday nights will be taken today by Walt Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A statement by Byers is expected to commit the colleges to a strong fight, going to the court if necessary. The colleges believe this time belongs to the high schools and colleges, and any infringement violates the federal antitrust law passed in 1961.

The NCAA doesn't televise college games on Friday nights to protect the nations high schools who play almost all their games then.

Supporting the NCAA in its stand is the National Federation of High Schools, with more than 12,000 members.

The American Broadcasting Co. insists the five games are not covered by the 1961 antitrust law because the games are being negotiated with the individual clubs and not the league.

Thomas W. Moore, president of ABC, put it this way:

"This is completely legal. The telecasts would accelerate interest in all kinds of football and not harm the colleges or the schools.

College and high school leaders contend the telecasts would hurt attendance. About 85 per cent of the high schools and some colleges play on Friday nights.

An emergency telephone conference of the NCAA television committee was held late Friday to determine the next move.

The 1961 law specified the NFL in signing a network contract could not televise on Friday nights and Saturdays, but it said nothing about individual club contracts.

The ABC has signed an agreement with Ford Motor Co. for sponsorship of the games between Sept. 25 and ct. 23. The NFL maintains any such announcement would have to be premature because the league hasnt made up its schedule.

The five games involved are unidentified, but they were held out of the package contract signed with Columbia Broadcasting System earlier this year calling for $28.2 million over the next two years.

Ring Rookie Beats Veteran

NEW YORK (AP)—Frankie Narvaez, a swashbuckling lightweight with a zest for the give-and-take of the tough fight game, had a victory over contender Luis Molina to his credit today and a bright future ahead of him.

Unranked and unknown, the 24-year-old Puerto Rican-born New Yorker made his debut as a Madison Square Garden headliner and television performer a double success by outpunching the fifth-ranking Molina in a brisk 10-rounder Friday night.

The rugged little newcomer staggered his foe three times—in the fourth, eight and 10th rounds—and opened cuts over and under the Californian's right eye. He also drew blood from Luis' nose in the lively exchanges.

Narvaez, an 8-5 favorite in his first crack at a contender, won by majority decision. The two judges, Al Berl and Tony Rossi, Referee Johnny LoBianco called had him ahead 7-3 in rounds. it a draw, 4-4-2, with four points for each. The Associated Press score card had it 5-5 but Narvaez ahead on his harder hittings. The ringside poll showed a 10-2 margin for Narvaez.

Narvaez, a pro only two years, stretched his unbeaten streak to 12. His record is 18-1-1. Molina, of San Jose, has a 24-4 record.

Freehan Signs Tiger Contract

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP) — Catcher Billl Freehan and pitcher Willie Smith are the latest Detroit Tiger players to agree to terms for the 1964 season.

Freehan arrived Friday as the Tigers got ready to open their early camp today.

Smith was contacted at his Anniston, Ala. home.

Still unsigned are pitchers Frank Lary, Terry Fox, Bill Faul and Hank Aguirre.

The early camp is mainly for rookies.

Two Tons An Hour!

Brothers, Inc., Help Automate Food Industries

Brothers, Inc., tank and metal fabricating plant sits atop a hill and looks down on the attractive, snow-covered village of Hermansville, which was a boom town in the last century when its big sawmills were spouting lumber in unending millions of board feet.

There still are major evidences of Hermansville's past to be seen from the hilltop. The huge building that once housed the IXL hardwood flooring manufacture of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. still is there It houses a band sawmill now and its owner, G. Harold Earle, thinks he'll probably replace it with a circular saw mill because filing bandsaws is such a difficult service to maintain in a part time operation.

There are other buildings from the old days of booming wood industry to be seen from the hilltop, too, and some from a later period of boom in the fur ranching industry, when silver foxes were worth a king's ransom. A big brick pelting plant where graders once judged the quality of pelts of foxes raised on the Niemann's big ranch nearby now houses the Clare Bedding Co.'s mattress manufacture.

The hilltop has seen great changes down below. It has seen the great row of beehive charcoal kilns disappear, and the huge mills and the sea of lumber piles.

What's Cooking?

And now Hermansville looks to the hill and wonders what's cooking at Brother, Inc.? It happens to be a query that's right on the button. Because Brothers, Inc., which started in 1957 to make tanks, is now making cooking equipment, too.

It isn't the kind of equipment that mother uses on the kitchen range for that "home cooked" menu. It's equipment that big food processors use in increasing quantity as they automate their operations in pursuit of the trend which overtook the machine industry much earlier.

It's natural that Brothers, Inc., should go into the manufacture of kitchen equipment because it has been in the food industry equipment business for years. It is a major manufacturer of systems for the storage, heating, and piping of liquid sugars, corn syrup, lard, chocolate, vegetable oils and other products. Its systems for the handling of these foods are to be found throughout the nation.

It got into this business because of its quest for markets for tanks. It now makes tanks in carbon steel, stainless steel, aluminum and monel metal, and with pumpage piping and fittings to suit, and all the other needs of storage and delivery systems.

Its next step was into manufacture of hemispherical kettles. These are big half-globes with their bottoms dimple jacketed so that steam can heat the content of the kettle quickly. They're used for making candy, foods, chemicals and other things.

Current work at Brothers, Inc., is to qualify its pressure vessels for the ASME seal of approval. It is given by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Brothers, Inc., still are making tanks in all sizes for petroleum products, but they are expanding their manufacture with a development of other products. Current development includes a turkey cooker for the convenience foods industry, which turns out products like TV dinners, ready to heat and eat.

The turkey cooker designed by Brothers, Inc., will be 40 feet long and 54 inches wide and 60 inches deep and be covered with a steam jacket that will cook the turkeys as they move along on a worm feed. The birds will enter the cooker frozen and emerge in one and a half hours at the rate of two tons an hour. The gravy drippings will go to soup stocks and the birds will go to the cutting tables to be sliced for the ready-to-eat kits.

Like Popsickles

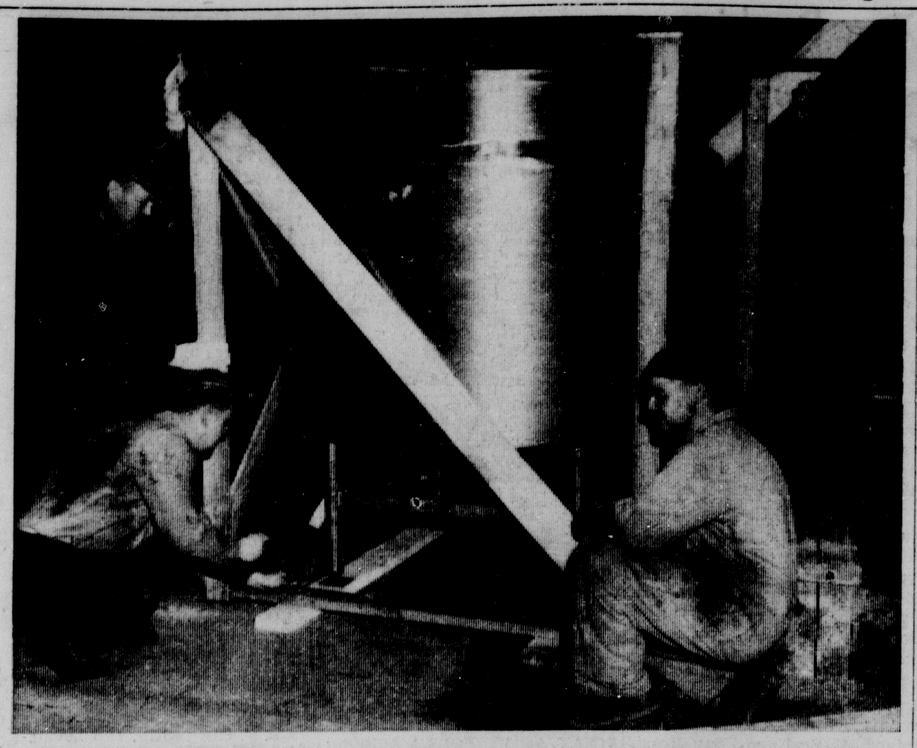
The production line cooker will replace big kettles which are now used for cooking the birds. The kettles need a staff of cooks and the Brothers, Inc., cooker will need only one man to drop the frozen turkeys into the intake at the rate of 300 14-pound birds every hour and a half.

This type of equipment will bring to industrial kitchens some of the mass production, automated processing that the popsickle industry has achieved with machines that turn out 700 dozen popsickles in one hour. The food industry has been rather slow to automate, but it is moving now, except for root vegetable preparation. That still requires a worker with a paring knife.

Richard Lungerhausen, president, and John Lungerhausen, vice president and chief engineer of Brothers, Inc., have the aid of a veteran metal fabrication and kitchen equipment manufacturer in Robert B. Laws, vice president and sales manager, in the development of the new equipment.

THEATER VS. CHURCH

When Christianity became fashionable the customs of the theater were transferred to the churches and the congregation applauded preaching by waving linen cloths, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.



THIS STAINLESS STEEL kettle with steam jacket was manufactured for a pickle works. A vinegar heater, it is being crated for shipment by workers of Brothers, Ind., at Hermansville. (Daily Press Photos by Bernard Schultz)

Cypriot Peace Efforts Urgent

ATHENS (AP) — U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball pressed his Cyprus peace mission today at an urgent meeting with Greece's caretaker Premier John Paraskevopoulos. Turkish military preparations added a new danger to the crisis.

Ball called on Paraskevopoulos a few hours after the American troubleshooter arrived from Ankara, Turkey, in a whirlwind effort to win acceptance of an international police force free of U.N. control.

Then he headed to London in his special U.S. Air Force jet plane for a conference with British authorities.

In London, British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home called in top cabinet members to discuss the explosive situation, possibly including British reaction in event of a Turkish invasion.

Germany's network of limited access highways was conceived in the 1920s and begun by the Nazis to hasten movements of soldiers and supplies.

Sawmill Men Invited To Visit Mancelona Plant

Sawmill operators in Delta County are invited to an afternoon and evening sawmill operators training session to be held Thursday, Feb. 27 at Mancelona, 35 miles south of Petoskey on Highway 131.

Delta County Extension Director J. L. Heirman says the meeting will cover marketing, grade sawing, automation of sawmills, tips for winter sawing and business management. Those attending will see in operation the plants of the Meeder Lumber Co., which has a dry kiln and complete sawmill operation.

Dick Johnson, a Michigan State University forestry graduate and owner and operator of a portable sawmill for the last 12 years, will be the main speaker. Johnson is a native of Iron River.

There are 500 sawmills operating in Michigan, some stationary, some portable. "It is still a sizeable enterprise throughout the state and probably will increase as more timber becomes of sawlog size," said Heirman.

Mildness Saves Highway Money

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Highway Department is saving about $1 million so far this year because it has been such a mild winter.

The department estimates it has saved $400,000 on chemicals, mostly calcium chloride and salt, and $600,000 in overtime pay on snow removal.

"This savings could be wiped out between now and the end of March, but we are keeping our fingers crossed and are hoping March will be no worse than usual," said Highway Commissioner John Mackie.

At Grand Rapids, Mackie said, the average snowfall total as of Feb. 1 was 41 inches compared with 72 inches last winter. At Muskegon, which had one of its heaviest snowstorms in history during December, the Feb. 1 cumulative total was still only 100 inches compared to 130 inches the previous year at that date.

Two Districting Setups Sent To Supreme Court

Washtenaw and Livingston would go together, Branch would be added to the Jackson - Hillsdale district, and Shiawassee, Clinton, Ionia and Gratiot would make up a new Central Michigan District.

Berrien and Cass would be joined by St. Joseph while Van Buren and Kalamazoo made up a new district, Eaton and Calhoun another.

Other shifts outstate would put Allegan, Barry and Ottawa into one district and Muskegon, Oceana and Newaygo into another.

Three For Peninsula

Clare, Mecosta, Isabella, Midland and Montcalm would be in one district. Another district would include Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Manistee, Wexford, Mason, Lake, Osceola.

Kalkaska, Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona, Missaukee, Roscommon, Ogemaw, Iosco, Arenac and Gladwin would comprise a district, with the rest of the Lower Peninsula counties — eight in the top two tiers — making up another.

The Upper Peninsula would have three districts — Chippewa, Mackinac, Luce, Schoolcraft and Delta making up one; Alger, Marquette, baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw a second, and the rest comprising the third.

Trujillos Seek Home In Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Hector Trujillo, former president of the Dominican Republic and his American wife are seeking a new home in exile here, officials report.

The Trujillos and Mrs. Trujillos father, Charles Alton McLaughlin, arrived here Friday from Panama.

Trujillo is a brother of the assassinated dictator Rafael Trujillo.

Moose Teaching Bounties Lesson

The current study of the balance of moose and wolves on Isle Royale may have a strong influence on Michigan's program of predator control eventually.

James A. O. Crowe, outdoor editor of the Detroit News, suggests this in an article in the News written after a visit to the island in Lake Superior where the continuing study of the moose herd is now underway.

The moose herd on the island has been protected since 1940 when Isle Royale was made a national park. Within a few years the herd population zoomed to 3,000 animals and the moose began to die of starvation. The big animals were destroying their food plants by overbrowsing and there was danger that they would become extinct on the island.

Then 16 years ago a cold winter formed an ice bridge between Isle Royale and the Canadian mainland and wolves crossed the ice to the island and they've been there since, preying on the moose.

The study seems certain to provide, says Crowe, that the wolves cull the herd of weaklings and hold it to a stable size of about 600 healthy animals, which is apparently just the number that the vegetation on the island can support. In turn, the availability of the moose holds the island wolf population to a little over 20.

All kills this winter have been calves under a year old or moose in their sixth year or later. About 85 calves survive the winter, and then these 85 are safe from the wolves for another 5 years until they begin to get infirm with age.

Florida Railway Train Blown Up By Dynamiters

NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —A powerful dynamite blast tore into the underside of a strike-bound Florida east Coast Railway freight train Friday night and exploded a propane gas tank car that sent a ball of flame hundreds of feet in the air.

It was the second derailment by explosives of an FEC freight train this month. Earlier this week, four boys found 45 sticks of dynamite, wired to explode on contact of train wheels. They dismantled it seconds before a train whizzed by.

"Another sabotage, another attempted murder," said W. L. Thornton, chief railway operating officer.

FBI agents were called in to investigate.

Briefly Told

Ray Hereford Farms, of Carney, has sold a quarter interest in their registered horned Hereford bull, LJC Onward 44, to Vincent Peterson, also of Carney.

Traffic court tickets have been issued by Escanaba police to Eugene E. Lemery, 1817 17th St., Menominee, improper passing; Ronald C. Sanville, Cornell Rte. 1, disobeying traffic signal; Allen R. Henderson, Bark River Rte. 2, speeding.

Equitable Reserve Association will have its regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Priester, 316 S. 16th St. A social hour will follow the business session.

New Governors' House Planned

LANSING (AP) — A $250,000 down payment on a governor's mansion is awaiting House approval. An appropriation bill was introduced in the House Thursday by Rep. Carroll C. Newton, R - Delton.

Newton, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he introduced the bill simply as a vehicle — adding that the proposed appropriation could be changed if necessary.

The House also has approved a Senate - Passed resolution forming a joint committee to locate and plan the governor's residence, called for in the new constitution.

No recommendation for funds for the mansion has been made in Gov. George W. Romney's capital outlay proposal for the coming year.

However, $17,500 has been set aside for nearly 10 years to start planning, and it was not expected that actual construction funds would be needed for another year.

Brucellosis Shots Set State Record

Vaccination of calves against brucellosis, a contagious cattle disease that has cost owners millions of dollars, achieved a record year in Michigan in 1963.

Calfhood vaccination has been proven a valuable tool in reducing brucellosis. It gives cattle protection against this disease during that period of an animal's life when it is most susceptible.

During 1963 calfhood vaccinations in this state totaled 136,627, an increase of nearly 23 per cent over the previous year, which was the high year up to that time. There are about 240,000 calves eligible for vaccination each year in Michigan.

Increase in vaccination is attributed to passage of a state law which requires "all female cattle born after Jan. 1, 1963, sold or otherwise disposed of or moved to associate with other cattle of another owner for dairy or breeding purposes, after reaching nine months of age, must have been officially vaccinated for brucellosis and accompanied by official proof of vaccination."
